NEW QUESTION: 2You are responsible for a project in your organization that has multiple internal customers. Because many people in your organization are interested in this project, you realize the importance of _____
A. Performing communications planning early
B. Determining the communications requirements of the customers
C. Having an expert on communications management and customer relationship management on your team
D. Conducting a stakeholder analysis to assess information needs
Answer: A
Explanation: On most projects, communications planning should be performed very early such as when the project management plan is prepared. This approach then allows appropriate resources, such as time and budget, to be allocated to communications activities. [Planning] PMI@, PMBOK@ Guide, 2013, 290

NEW QUESTION: 3HOTSPOTFor each of the given items, select the appropriate authentication category from the drop down choices. Select the appropriate authentication type for the following items:Answer: Explanation: Biometrics refers to a collection of physical attributes of the human body that can be used as identification or an authentication factor. Fingerprints and retinas are physical attributes of the human body. Two types of tokens exist, Time-based one-time password (TOTP) tokens and HMAC-based one-time password (HOTP). TOTP tokens generate passwords at fixed time intervals, whereas HOTP tokens generate passwords not based on fixed time intervals but instead based on a non-repeating one-way function, such as a hash or HMAC operation. Smart cards can have Multi-factor and proximity authentication embedded into it. PAP allows for two entities to share a password in advance and use the password as the basis of authentication. The same goes for PIN numbers.
