NEW QUESTION: 1Your Custer's HDFS block size is 64MB. You have a directory containing 100 plain text files, each of which is 100MB in size. The InputFormat for your job is TextInputFormat. How many Mappers will run?A. 0B. 1C. 2D. 3*Answer: A*Explanation:Each file would be split into two as the block size (64 MB) is less than the file size(100 MB), so 200 mappers would be running.Note:If you're not compressing the files then hadoop will process your large files (say 10G), with a number of mappers related to the block size of the file.Say your block size is 64M, then you will have ~160 mappers processing this 10G file (160*64 ~10G). Depending on how CPU intensive your mapper logic is, this might be an acceptable block size, but if you find that your mappers are executing in sub minute times, then you might want to increase the work done by each mapper (by increasing the block size to 128,256, 512m - the actual size depends on how you intend to process the data).

NEW QUESTION: 2

脅威を緩和する手法を左側から、脅威の種類または攻撃を軽減する攻撃の右側にドラッグアンドドロップします。Answer: Explanation:Explanation Double-Tagging attack: In this attack, the attacking computer generates frames with two 802.1Q tags. The first tag matches the native VLAN of the trunk port (VLAN 10 in this case), and the second matches the VLAN of a host it wants to attack (VLAN 20). When the packet from the attacker reaches Switch A, Switch A only sees the first VLAN 10 and it matches with its native VLAN 10 so this VLAN tag is removed. Switch A forwards the frame out all links with the same native VLAN 10. Switch B receives the frame with an tag of VLAN 20 so it removes this tag and forwards out to the Victim computer.Note: This attack only works if the trunk (between two switches) has the same native VLAN as the attacker. To mitigate this type of attack, you can use VLAN access control lists

(VACLs, which applies to all traffic within a VLAN. We can use VACL to drop attacker traffic to specific victims/servers) or implement Private VLANs. ARP attack (like ARP poisoning/spoofing) is a type of attack in which a malicious actor sends falsified ARP messages over a local area network as ARP allows a gratuitous reply from a host even if an ARP request was not received. This results in the linking of an attacker's MAC address with the IP address of a legitimate computer or server on the network. This is an attack based on ARP which is at Layer 2. Dynamic ARP inspection (DAI) is a security feature that validates ARP packets in a network which can be used to mitigate this type of attack.
