A. Use the AWS CodeDeploy service to create a snapshot of the AWS Volumes
B. Create a powershell script which uses the AWS CLI to get the volumes and then run the script as a cron job.
C. Use the AWS Config service to create a snapshot of the AWS Volumes
D. Use Cloudwatch Events to trigger the snapshots of EBS Volumes
Answer: D
Explanation: The best is to use the inbuilt sen/ice from Cloudwatch, as Cloud watch Events to automate the creation of CBS Snapshots. With Option A, you would be restricted to running the powrshell script on Windows machines and maintaining the script itself And then you have the overhead of having a separate instance just to run that script. When you go to Cloudwatch events, you can use the Target as EC2 CreateSnapshot API call as shown below. The AWS Documentation mentions Amazon Cloud Watch Cvents delivers a near real-time stream of system events that describe changes in Amazon Web Services (AWS) resources. Using simple rules that you can quickly set up, you can match events and route them to one or more target functions or streams. Cloud Watch Cvents becomes aware of operational changes as they occur. Cloud Watch Cvents responds to these operational changes and takes corrective action as necessary, by sending messages to respond to the environment, activating functions, making changes, and capturing state information.
