NEW QUESTION: 3You need to identify the storage requirements for Contoso.For each of the following statements, select Yes if the statement is true. Otherwise, select No.NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.Answer: Explanation:ExplanationStatement 1: YesContoso is moving the existing product blueprint files to Azure Blob storage which will ensure that the blueprint files are stored in the archive storage tier.Use unmanaged standard storage for the hard disks of the virtual machines. We use Page Blobs for these.Statement 2: NoAzure Table storage stores large amounts of structured data. The service is a NoSQL datastore which accepts authenticated calls from inside and outside the Azure cloud. Azure tables are ideal for storing structured, non-relational data. Common uses of Table storage include:1. Storing TBs of structured data capable of serving web scale applications2. Storing datasets that don't require complex joins, foreign keys, or stored procedures and can be denormalized for fast access3. Quickly querying data using a clustered index4. Accessing data using the OData protocol and LINQ queries with WCF Data Service .NET Libraries Statement 3: No File Storage can be used if your business use case needs to deal mostly with standard File extensions like*.docx, *.png and *.bak then you should probably go with this storage option.Reference:

NEW QUESTION: 4A user's computer fails. The help desk provides the user with a new computer. The user's Documents folder is restored from the backup.The user reports that he can no longer access his encrypted files. The help desk recovers the files by using a data recovery agent (DRA).You need to ensure that when users receive new computers, they can access their encrypted files without administrative intervention.What should you request?A. BitLocker be enabled on all computersB. credential roaming be enabledC. user accounts be trusted for delegationD. the CA be configured for key archival and recoveryAnswer: B
Explanation:EEExplanation:A. credential roaming be enabled Credential roaming allows organizations to store certificates and private keys in Active Directory Domain Services (AD DS) separately from application state or configuration information. Credential roaming uses existing logon and autoenrollment mechanisms to securely download certificates and keys to a local computer whenever a user logs on and, if desired, remove them when the user logs off. In addition, the integrity of these credentials is maintained under any conditions, such as when certificates are updated and when users log on to more than one computer at a time.B. BitLocker be enabled on all computersC. user accounts be trusted for delegation This security setting determines which users can set the Trusted for Delegation setting on a user or computer object. The user or object that is granted this privilege must have write access to the account control flags on the user or computer object. A server process running on a computer (or under a user context) that is trusted for delegation can access resources on another computer using delegated credentials of a client, as long as the client account does not have the Account cannot be delegated account control flag set.D. the CA be configured for key

archival and recovery
Topic 10, Humongous Insurance Scenario: You are an enterprise desktop support technician for Humongous Insurance. Active Directory Configuration The company has two offices named Office1 and Office2. The network contains an Active Directory forest named humongousinsurance.com. An Active Directory site exists for each office. The sites are named Site1 and Site2. Server Configuration All servers run Windows Server 2008 R2 and are joined to the domain. The relevant servers are configured as shown in the following table. The corporate security policy states that all domain controllers must have only the following roles: -AD DS -DNS server -DHCP server Network Configuration Site1 and Site2 connect to each other by using a WAN link. Client Computer Configuration All client computers run Windows 7 Enterprise and are members of the domain. Some client computers are portable computers and some are desktop computers. The computers do not support hardware virtualization. All computers are configured to receive Windows Updates from WSUS1. Remote Access Configuration Users can connect to NPAS1 from the Internet by using all of the VPN protocols that are supported by Windows Server 2008 R2. Fabrikam, Inc. is a customer of Humongous Insurance. Several Humongous Insurance users work at the Fabrikam office and access resources on the Humongous Insurance network by using direct VPN connections to NPAS1.
