NEW QUESTION: 2Over the years, a user has been accidentally creating copies of folders in a personal drive and, as a result, there are now hundreds of "copy of copy" folders dotted throughout the drive. Which of the following Windows command line tolls might a technician use to obtain a complete list of all the folders for use in a deletion script?A. dirB. delC. lsD. rdAnswer: C

NEW QUESTION: 3Which statements are true about out-of-band network management? (Select three)A. TCP/IP and SMTP protocols are used to manage the devices.B. Network ports are not used for device management.C. Control and management data share the same network as the data being processed.D. A seperate network is maintanced for management access and control data.E. TELNET or SSH protocols are used to manage the devices.Answer: B,D,E
Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Out-of-band management is especially suited to situations when no other server access is available. It can be invaluable in emergency situations to return a server with a non-responding operating system to service until it can be managed again with in-band tools. Out-of-band management is less secure because it depends on the configurations of the other out-of-band components in the mix.Telnet or SSH are used to manage the devices. Network ports are not used for device management. A separate network is maintained for management access and control data.
