NEW QUESTION: 1 On which of the following does a CGI program execute?
A. Web server
B. Client and Web server
C. Client
D. Router
Answer: A
Explanation: The Common Gateway Interface (CGI) specification is used for creating executable programs that run on a Web server. CGI defines the communication link between a Web server and Web applications. It gives a network or Internet resource access to specific programs. For example, when users submit an HTML form on a Web site, CGI is used to pass this information to a remote application for processing, and retrieve the results from the application. It then returns these results to the user by means of an HTML page.
Answer A is incorrect. CGI programs do not execute on routers.
