NEW QUESTION: 1 Which method of password cracking takes the most time and effort?
A. Shoulder surfing
B. Rainbow tables
C. Dictionary attack
D. Brute force
Answer: D
Explanation: Brute-force cracking, in which a computer tries every possible key or password until it succeeds, is typically very time consuming. More common methods of password cracking, such as dictionary attacks, pattern checking, word list substitution, etc. attempt to reduce the number of trials required and will usually be attempted before brute force.

NEW QUESTION: 2 Refer to the exhibit. Which additional configuration is necessary for R1 and R2 to become OSPF neighbors?
A. R1! no router ospf 1 router ospf 10 network 10.1.1.5 0.0.0.0 area 0
B. R1! router ospf 1 no passive-interface FastEthernet0/0
C. R1! interface FastEthernet0/0 ip ospf mtu-ignore
D. R2! interface FastEthernet0/1 ip ospf mtu-ignore
R2! interface FastEthernet0/1 ip ospf mtu-ignore
D. R2! router ospf 10 no network 10.1.1.6 0.0.0.0 area 0 network 10.1.1.6 0.0.0.0 area 1
Answer: B
Explanation: Because the passive interface default command is used, by default all interfaces are passive and no neighbors will form on these interfaces. We need to disable passive interface on the link to R2 by using the "no passive-interface FastEthernet0/0" on R1 under OSPF.

NEW QUESTION: 4 Mark works as a Database Administrator for Techworld Inc. He wants to remove the columns from a table that are not dependent on the primary key. Which of the following normal forms will help him accomplish the task?
A. 4 NF
B. 5 NF
C. 6 NF
D. 3 NF
Answer: D
Explanation: Third normal form (3NF) is used in database normalization. A table is in 3NF if and only if the relation S (table) is in second normal form (2NF) and every non-prime attribute of S is non-transitively dependent on every key of S.
Answer A is incorrect. Fourth normal form (4NF) is a normal form used in database normalization. Introduced by Ronald Fagin in 1977, 4NF is the next level of normalization after Boyce-Codd normal form (BCNF). Whereas the second, third, and Boyce-Codd normal forms are concerned with functional dependencies, 4NF is concerned with a more general type of dependency known as a multivalued dependency. Symbolically, it can be represented as follows: If A ->> B|C, then A -> B and A -> C Here, A, B, and C are attributes.
Answer C is incorrect. Fifth normal form (5NF), also known as Project-join normal form (PJ/NF), is a level of database normalization designed to reduce redundancy in relational databases recording multi-valued facts by isolating semantically related multiple relationships. A table is said to be in 5NF if and only if every join dependency in it is implied by the candidate keys. Answer B is incorrect. Sixth normal form (6NF) is used in database normalization. A relation (table) is in sixth normal form if and only if it satisfies no nontrivial join dependencies at all. A join dependency is trivial if and only if at least one of the projections involved is taken over the set of all attributes of the relation (table) concerned. Microsoft 98-364 : Practice Test
