Select "No change is needed" if the underlined text makes the statement correct. A. Must be created with a first and last name B. Can be from 1 to 256 characters in length C. Can contain numbers and letters but no special characters D. No change is needed. Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 3 How does PEAP protect the EAP exchange? A. It encrypts the exchange using the server certificate. B. It encrypts the exchange using the client certificate. C. It validates the client-supplied certificate, and then encrypts the exchange using the server certificate. D. It validates the server-supplied certificate, and then encrypts the exchange using the client certificate. Answer: A Explanation: Explanation PEAP is similar in design to EAP-TTLS, requiring only a server-side PKI certificate to create a secure TLS tunnel to protect user authentication, and uses server-side public key certificates to authenticate the server. It then creates an encrypted TLS tunnel between the client and the authentication server. In most configurations, the keys for this encryption are transported using the server's public key.
