NEW QUESTION: 1 Which access control model provides upper and lower bounds of access capabilities for a subject?
A. Role-based access control
B. Content-dependent access control
C. Biba access control
D. Lattice-based access control
Answer: D Explanation:

Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Lattice-based access control is a mathematical model that allows a system to easily represent the different security levels and control access attempts based on those levels. Every pair of elements has a highest lower bound and a lowest upper bound of access rights. Incorrect Answers: A: Role-based access control (RBAC) provides access to resources according to the role the user holds within the company or the tasks that the user has been assigned. C: Biba is a security model, rather than an access control model. It centers on preventing information from flowing from a low integrity level to a high integrity level. D: Content-dependent access control is when the access decisions depend upon the value of an attribute of the object itself. NEW QUESTION: 2 You need to implement Project6. Which three actions should you perform in sequence? To answer, move the appropriate actions from the list of actions to the answer area and arrange them in the correct order.
Answer: Explanation: Explanation Scenario: Implement Project3, Project5, Project6, and Project7 based on the planned changes Step 1: Open the release pipeline editor. In the Releases tab of Azure Pipelines, select your release pipeline and choose Edit to open the pipeline editor. Step 2: Enable Gates. Choose the pre-deployment conditions icon for the Production stage to open the conditions panel. Enable gates by using the switch control in the Gates section. Step 3: Add Query Work items. Choose + Add and select the Query Work Items gate. Configure the gate by selecting an existing work item query. Note: A case for release gate is: Incident and issues management. Ensure the required status for work items, incidents, and issues. For example, ensure deployment occurs only if no priority zero bugs exist, and validation that there are no active incidents takes place after deployment.

Application Architecture The company's primary application is a single monolithic retirement fund management system based on ASP.NET web forms that use logic written in V8.NET. Some new sections of the application are written in C#. Variations of the application are created for individual customers. Currently, there are more than 80 code branches in the application's code base. The application was developed by using Microsoft Visual Studio. Source code is stored in Team Foundation Server (TFS) in the main office. The branch offices access the source code by using TFS proxy servers. Architectural Issues Litware focuses on writing new code for customers. No resources are provided to refactor or remove existing code. Changes to the code base take a long time, AS dependencies are not obvious to individual developers. Merge operations of the code often take months and involve many developers. Code merging frequently introduces bugs that are difficult to locate and resolve. Customers report that ownership costs of the retirement fund management system increase continually. The need to merge unrelated code makes even minor code changes expensive. Requirements Planned Changes Litware plans to develop a new suite of applications for investment planning. The investment planning Applications will require only minor integration with the existing retirement fund management system. The investment planning applications suite will include one multi-tier web application and two iOS mobile applications. One mobile application will be used by employees; the other will be used by customers. Litware plans to move to a more agile development methodology. Shared code will be extracted into a series of packages. Litware has started an internal cloud transformation process and plans to use cloud based services whenever suitable. Litware wants to become proactive in detecting failures, rather than always waiting for customer bug reports. Technical Requirements The company's investment planning applications suite must meet the following technical requirements:

- * New incoming connections through the firewall must be minimized.
- * Members of a group named Developers must be able to install packages.
- * The principle of least privilege must be used for all permission assignments
- * A branching strategy that supports developing new functionality in isolation must be used.
- * Members of a group named Team leaders must be able to create new packages and edit the permissions of package feeds
- * Visual Studio App Center must be used to centralize the reporting of mobile application crashes and device types in use.
- * By default, all App Center must be used to centralize the reporting of mobile application crashes and device types in use.
- * Code quality and release quality are critical. During release, deployments must not proceed between stages if any active bugs are logged against the release.
- * The mobile applications must be able to call the share pricing service of the existing retirement fund management system. Until the system is upgraded, the service will only support basic authentication over HUPS.
- * The required operating system configuration for the test servers changes weekly. Azure Automation State Configuration must be used to ensure that the operating system on each test server is configured the same way when the servers are created and checked periodically. Current Technical The test servers are configured correctly when first deployed, but they experience configuration drift over time. Azure Automation State Configuration fails to correct the configurations. Azure Automation State Configuration nodes are registered by using the following command.
