NEW QUESTION: 3 You wrote a map function that throws a runtime exception when it encounters a control character in input data. The input supplied to your mapper contains twelve such characters totals, spread across five file splits. The first four file splits each have two control characters and the last split has four control characters. Identify the number of failed task attempts you can expect when you run the job with `mapred.max.map.attempts` set to 4:

A. You will have five failed task attempts
B. You will have forty-eight failed task attempts
C. You will have seventeen failed task attempts
D. You will have twenty failed task attempts
E. You will have twelve failed task attempts
Answer: D
Explanation: There will be four failed task attempts for each of the five file splits.
Note: You want to populate an associative array in order to perform a map-side join. You've decided to put this information in a text file, place that file into the DistributedCache and read it in your Mapper before any records are processed.
