NEW QUESTION: 1 You are managing a SharePoint farm. The SharePoint databases are configured to run on a dedicated instance of Microsoft SQL Server 2008 R2 Service Pack 1. You need to optimize query executions. What should you do? A. Move the master database to a RAID 10 volume. B. Move the master database to a RAID 5 volume. C. Move the SharePoint databases to a RAID 10 volume. D. Set the maximum degree of parallelism for SQL Server instances to 0.

Answer: C Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Setting the maximum degree of parallelism for SQL Server instances to 1 is recommended to optimize query executions. However, that is not an option in this question. Therefore, the only other way to optimize query executions is to put the SharePoint databases on the fastest storage possible, in this case RAID 10.

NEW QUESTION: 2 When an EIGRP topology change is detected, what is the correct order of events when there is a FS? A. The neighbor adjacency is deleted. Routes enter the Active state and the feasible route is used. DUAL is notified. Remove all topology entries learned from that neighbor. B. DUAL is notified. The neighbor adjacency is deleted. Remove all topology entries learned from that neighbor. The feasible route is used. C. The neighbor adjacency is deleted. The feasible route is used. DUAL is notified. Remove all topology entries learned from that neighbor. D. DUAL is notified. Remove all topology entries learned from that neighbor. The neighbor adjacency is deleted. Routes enter the Active state and the feasible route is used. Answer: B Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: If a packet is not received before the expiration of the hold time, the neighbor adjacency is deleted, and all topology table entries learned from that neighbor are removed, as if the neighbor had sent an update stating that all the routes are unreachable. If the neighbor is a successor for any destination networks, those networks are removed from the routing table, and alternative paths, if available, are computed. This lets the routes quickly reconverge if an alternative feasible route is available.
