NEW QUESTION: 4Which of the following BEST describes when you perform the Monitor and Control Project Work process?
A. At scheduled milestones or intervals during the project
B. As soon as every deliverable is completed
C. Continuously throughout the project
D. At the end of every project phase
Answer: C
Explanation:One of the most important things that you do as a project manager is to constantly monitor the project for changes, and take the appropriate action whenever you make a change. But changes don't happen on any sort of schedule - if they did, it would make project management a whole lot easier! That means you need to continuously monitor your project to figure out whether or not its plans and scope need to change.
