NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following factors would cause a technician to select a hard drive over an SSD as a primary storage medium? A. Cost B. Speed C. Form factor D. Power consumption
Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2 An unexpected risk has been identified in a project. Which of the following actions should the project manager perform FIRST? A. Add the risk to the risk register B. Update the project probability / impact matrix C. Submit a change request D. Perform a risk qualitative analysis
Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 3 An insurance company has an online quoting system for insurance premiums. It allows potential customers to fill in certain details about their car and obtain a quote. During an investigation, the following patterns were detected: Pattern 1 - Analysis of the logs identifies that insurance premium forms are being filled in but only single fields are incrementally being updated. Pattern 2 - For every quote completed, a new customer number is created; due to legacy systems, customer numbers are running out. Which of the following is the attack type the system is susceptible to, and what is the BEST way to defend against it? (Select TWO). A. Implement firewall rules to block the attacking IP addresses B. Distributed denial of service C. SQL injection D. Apply a hidden field that triggers a SIEM alert E. Input a blacklist of all known BOT malware IPs into the firewall F. Cross site scripting attack G. Resource exhaustion attack H. Implement an inline WAF and integrate into SIEM
Answer: G, H
Explanation: A resource exhaustion attack involves tying up predetermined resources on a system, thereby making the resources unavailable to others. Implementing an inline WAF would allow for protection from attacks, as well as log and alert admins to what's going on. Integrating in into SIEM allows for logs and other security-related documentation to be collected for analysis.
Incorrect Answers: A: SIEM technology analyses security alerts generated by network hardware and applications. B: Cross site scripting attacks occur when malicious scripts are injected into otherwise trusted websites. D: Traditional firewalls block or allow traffic. It is not, however, the best way to defend against a resource exhaustion attack. E: A SQL injection attack occurs when the attacker makes use of a series of malicious SQL queries to directly influence the SQL database. G: A distributed denial-of-service (DDoS) attack occurs when many compromised systems attack a single target. This results in denial of service for users of the targeted system. H: Traditional firewalls block or allow traffic. It is not, however, the best way to defend against a resource exhaustion attack.
