NEW QUESTION: 2 A SysOps administrator maintains several Amazon EC2 instances that do not have access to the public internet. To patch operating systems, the instances should not be reachable from the Public internet. The administrator deploys a NAT instance, updates the security groups, and configures the appropriate routes within the route table. However, the instances are still unable to reach the internet. What should be done to resolve the issue? A. Delete the NAT instance and replace it with AWS WAF. B. Start/Stop the NAT instance so it is launched on a different host. C. Assign elastic IP addresses to the instances and create a route from the private subnets to the internet gateway. D. Disable source/destination checks on the NAT instance. Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 3 A client hospitalized with a medical diagnosis of adjustment disorder versus personality disorder states, "Nobody cares about the clients." The nurse's most effective response would be: A. "How can you say that I don't care? We just met." B. "You seem angry. Tell me more about how you feel." C. "What makes you think the nurses don't care?" D. "You will feel differently about us in a few days." Answer: B Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: (A) This statement is a defensive response that places the nurse in a vulnerable countertransference position, and at the same time, fails to challenge the client's "splitting" behavior. (B) This statement is a defensive response by the nurse. In addition, this type of nontherapeutic statement requests that the client explain the reasons for her behavior, a difficult task for an individual with limited insight. (C) This statement is a nontherapeutic response that both ignores the intensity of the client's emotions and the dynamics underlying "splitting" behavior. (D) By simultaneously acknowledging the client's emotional intensity and gently challenging her "splitting" behavior, the nurse addresses the client's current distortions and prepares for further interventions with angry or ambivalent feelings.
