Host1 is located in New York, Host2 is located in Los Angeles, and Host3 is located in Denver. None of the virtual machines use dynamic memory. You plan to deploy a two-node Exchange Server 2016 database availability group (DAG) by using the virtual machines. Each node will have 12 processor cores and 24 GB of memory. You are evaluating whether you can use the existing servers for the deployment or whether you must purchase additional servers. You need to recommend where to place the Exchange servers. The solution must minimize costs. What is the best recommendation to achieve the goal? More than one answer choice may achieve the goal. Select the BEST answer.

Explanation:
Explanation/Reference: Explanation: First, look at the CPU requirements for Exchange 2016. "Exchange supports a virtual processor-to-logical processor ratio no greater than 2:1, although we recommend a ratio of 1:1. For example, a dual processor system using quad core processors contains a total of 8 logical processors in the host system. On a system with this configuration, don't allocate more than a total of 16 virtual processors to all guest virtual machines combined." Furthermore, the host operating system also needs 2 processors.

This leaves hosts 1 and 2. Now, let's look to the memory requirements: "...using dynamic memory or memory overcommit features for Exchange isn't supported."

out of 64 GB Host 2 uses 48 out of 64 GB Host 3 uses 44 out of 64 GB You need 24 GB for each VM. Only host 1 has the resources for it. It is not recommended to put both VM's on one host. So, the answer should be: A.
