NEW QUESTION: 1 You are a database administrator for a Microsoft SQL Server instance. You need to ensure that data can be replicated from a production server to two reporting servers in real time. You also need to ensure that data on the reporting server is always accessible. Which solution should you use? A. Policy Based Management B. Extended Events C. Availability Groups D. Snapshot Replication Answer: C Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: The AlwaysOn Availability Groups feature is a high-availability and disaster-recovery solution that provides an enterprise-level alternative to database mirroring. Introduced in SQL Server 2012, AlwaysOn Availability Groups maximizes the availability of a set of user databases for an enterprise. An availability group supports a failover environment for a discrete set of user databases, known as availability databases, that fail over together. An availability group supports a set of read-write primary databases and one to four sets of corresponding secondary databases. Optionally, secondary databases can be made available for read-only access and/or some backup operations. An availability group fails over at the level of an availability replica. Failovers are not caused by database issues such as a database becoming suspect due to a loss of a data file, deletion of a database, or corruption of a transaction log. References:

NEW QUESTION: 4 Which security features do the HP 6600 and 8800 routers provide? (Select two.)
A. Virus throttling
B. Virtual private network (VPN) services
C. Web filtering
D. Unified threat management
E. Firewall services
Answer: B,C
Explanation:
B: HP 6600 router features include:
*DVPN (Dynamic Virtual Private Network) - collects, maintains, and distributes dynamic public addresses through the VPN Address Management (VAM) protocol, making VPN establishment available between enterprise branches that use dynamic addresses to access the public network; compared to traditional VPN technologies, DVPN technology is more flexible and has richer features, such as NAT traversal of DVPN packets, AAA identity authentication, IPsec protection of data packets, and multiple VPN domains
HP 8800 router features include:
*Multiprotocol Label Switching (MPLS) Layer 3 VPN - allows Layer 3 VPNs across a provider network; uses MP-BGP to establish private routes for increased security; supports RFC 2547bis multiple autonomous system VPNs for added flexibility
*Multiprotocol Label Switching (MPLS) Layer 2 VPN - establishes simple Layer 2 point-to-point VPNs across a provider network using only MPLS Label Distribution Protocol (LDP); requires no routing and therefore decreases complexity, increases performance, and allows VPNs of nonroutable protocols; uses no routing information for increased security; supports Circuit Cross Connect (CCC), Static Virtual Circuits (SVCs), Martini draft, and Kompella-draft technologies
*Virtual Private LAN Service (VPLS) - establishes point-to-multipoint Layer 2 VPNs across a provider network
C: 8800 router features include:
Policy routing- allows custom filters for increased performance and security; supports ACLs, IP prefix, AS paths, community lists, and aggregate policies
HP 6600 features include:
Access control list - supports powerful ACLs for both IPv4 and IPv6; ACLs are used for filtering traffic to prevent illegal users from accessing the network or for controlling network traffic flow; rules can either deny or permit traffic to be forwarded; rules can be based on a Layer 2 header or a Layer 3 protocol header; rules can also be set to operate on specific dates or times
Note: HP 6600: Security
*Access control list - supports powerful ACLs for both IPv4 and IPv6; ACLs are used for filtering traffic to prevent illegal users from accessing the network or for controlling network traffic flow; rules can either deny or permit traffic to be forwarded; rules can be based on a Layer 2 header or a Layer 3 protocol header; rules can also be set to operate on specific dates or times
RADIUS - eases switch security access administration by using a password authentication server
TACACS+ - is an authentication tool using TCP with encryption of the full authentication request that provides additional security
Network address translation (NAT) - supports repeated multiplexing of a port and automatic 5tuple collision detection, enabling NAT to support unlimited connections; supports blacklist in NAT/NAPT/internal server, a limit on the number of connections, session log, and multi-instance
Secure Shell (SSHv2) - uses external servers to securely log in to a remote device; with authentication and encryption, it protects against IP spoofing and plain-text password interception; increases the security of Secure FTP (SFTP) transfers
Unicast Reverse Path Forwarding (URPF) - allows normal packets to be forwarded correctly, but discards the attaching packet due to lack of reverse path route or incorrect inbound interface; prevents source spoofing and distributed attacks; supports distributed URPF
*DVPN (Dynamic Virtual Private Network) - collects, maintains, and distributes dynamic public addresses through the VPN Address Management (VAM) protocol, making VPN establishment available between enterprise branches that use dynamic addresses to access the public network; compared to traditional VPN technologies, DVPN technology is more flexible and has richer features, such as NAT traversal of DVPN packets, AAA identity authentication, IPsec protection of data packets, and multiple VPN domains
Note on relation between ACLs and web filtering: After the URL address filtering function is enabled, the system denies all Web requests that use IP addresses by default. *To enable users to access all websites using IP addresses, you can enable the support for IP addresses in URL address filtering, so that the system forwards all Web requests that use IP addresses for website access. *To enable users to access specified websites using IP addresses, you can configure the support for IP addresses in URL address filtering to deny and configure ACL rules to specify the IP addresses of the websites.
