NEW QUESTION: 1Your network contains an Active Directory forest named contoso.com. The forest functional level is Windows Server 2012. The forest contains 20 member servers that are configured as file servers. All domain controllers run Windows Server 2016. You create a new forest named contosoadmin.com. You need to use the Enhanced Security Administrative Environment (ESAE) approach for the administration of the resources in contoso.com. Which two actions should you perform? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.
A. Configure contosoadmin.com to trust contoso.com.
B. Configure a two-way trust between both forests.
C. From the properties of the trust, enable forest-wide authentication.
D. Configure contoso.com to trust contosoadmin.com.
E. From the properties of the trust, enable selective authentication.

Answer: D, E Explanation: Explanation:

https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/windows-server/identity/securing-privileged-access/securing-privileged-access-reference-material#ESAE_BMTrust Trust configurations - Configure trust from managed forests(s) or domain(s) to the administrative forest A one-way trust is required from production environment to the admin forest. This can be a domain trust or a forest trust. The admin forest/domain (contosoadmin.com) does not need to trust the managed domains/forests (contoso.com) to manage Active Directory, though additional applications may require a two-way trust relationship, security validation, and testing. Selective authentication should be used to restrict accounts in the admin forest to only logging on to the appropriate production hosts.
