NEW QUESTION: 1A national HIM publication routinely requests that practitioners submit statistics from their facility regarding department functions. These are then summarized and published in graphic form, providing a tool for which of the following activities?A. job redesign B. job evaluation C. work standards D. benchmarking Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2A database View operation implements the principle of:A. Referential integrity. B. Separation of duties. C. Entity integrity. D. Least privilege. Answer: D Explanation: The correct answer is "Least privilege". Least privilege, in the database context, requires that subjects be granted the most restricted set of access privileges to the data in the database that are consistent with the performance of their tasks. Separation of duties, assigns parts of security-sensitive tasks to several individuals. Entity integrity requires that each row in the relation table must have a non-NULL attribute. Relational integrity, answer d, refers to the requirement that for any foreign key attribute, the referenced relation must have the same value for its primary key.
