All client computers run Windows 10 and are domain members. All laptops are protected by using BitLocker Drive Encryption (BitLocker). You have an organizational unit (OU) named OU1 that contains the computer accounts of application servers. An OU named OU2 contains the computer accounts of the computers in the marketing department. A. Windows Logs/Security
B. Applications and Services Logs/Windows PowerShell
C. Applications and Services Logs/Microsoft/Windows/PowerShell/Operational

Explanation: https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/powershell/wmf/5.0/audit\_script While Windows PowerShell already has the LogPipelineExecutionDetails Group Policy setting to log the invocation of cmdlets, PowerShell's scripting language has plenty of features that you might want to log and/or audit. The new Detailed Script Tracing feature lets you enable detailed tracking and analysis of Windows PowerShell scripting use on a system. After you enable detailed script tracing, Windows PowerShell logs all script blocks to the ETW (event tracing for windows) event log - Microsoft-WindowsPowerShell/Operational. If a script block creates another script block (for example, a script that calls the Invoke-Expression cmdlet on a string), that resulting script block is logged as well. Logging of these events can be enabled through the Turn on PowerShell Script Block Logging Group Policy setting (in Administrative Templates -> Windows Components -> Windows PowerShell).
