NEW QUESTION: 2Identify the correct statements related to support for descriptive flexfields in Profile Management. Select three.A. Descriptive flexfields are supported for business object "Rating Levels".B. Descriptive flexfields are enabled out of the box for business object "Content Items" and "Profile Items"C. Descriptive flexfields are enabled out of the box for business object "Education Establishments".D. Descriptive flexfields are supported but not enabled out of the box for business object "Education Establishments".E. Descriptive flexfields are supported for business object "Rating Models".Answer: B,C,E*Explanation:Note: *Descriptive flexfields (DFFs) allow you to extend Oracle applications to meet business requirements without the need for programming. You can use descriptive flexfields in the Oracle Trade Management UI to gather information , important and unique to your business, that would not otherwise be captured.You can customize a descriptive flexfield to capture just the information your organization needs. The flexfield structure can depend on the value of a context field and display only those fields (segments) that apply to the particular type of context.* Two business objects in Profile Management that support Descriptive Flexfields are Education Establishments and Content Items.

NEW QUESTION: 3*A. Option BB. Option DC. Option CD. Option AAnswer: D*Explanation: autocommand: (Optional) Causes the specified command to be issued automatically after the user logs in.When the command is complete, the session is terminated. Because the command can be any length and can contain embedded spaces, commands using the autocommand keyword must be the last option on the line.So after successfully logs in the Admin user sees the running configuration and immediately after is disconnected by the router. So removing the command lets keeps him connected.Source:
