NEW QUESTION: 1A. Option B B. Option D C. Option A D. Option C Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2You are a professional level SQL Sever 2008 Database Administrator.A SQL Server 2008 instance at the New York central site is managed by you, and it is called Ins01.There is a sales team in your company, and their task is to finish purchase orders for customer requests.The sales team updates data regularly in a local database by utilizing their portable computers.When the central site is connected by portable computers, a database named Sales will be synchronizedwiththe local database. A duplication model will be created to duplicate the local database to the Salesdatabase.The requirements listed below should be satisfied by the duplication model:First, when the same data is updated by multiple users independently, there should be no data conflicts.Secondly, sensitive data such as product price cannot be updated by the sales team.Thirdly, the data should be synchronized by the sales team not only at scheduled times but also on demand.The best model should be identified to have data duplicated, and you should be reduced the development efforts to the least.Which action will you perform?A. You should utilize snapshot duplication along with each portable computer that is set up as a subscriber.B. You should utilize SQL Server Integration Services (SSIS) to promote the date modification and pull updates to the Sales database along with the SSIS packages, on demand.C. You should utilize transactional duplication along with each portable computer that is set up as a publisher.D. You should utilize merge duplication along with each portable computer that is set up as a subscriber.Answer: DExplanation:Explanation/Reference: Merge replication, like transactional replication, typically starts with a snapshot of the publication database objects and data. Subsequent data changes and schema modifications made at the Publisher and Subscribers are tracked with triggers. The Subscriber synggronizes with the Publisher when connected to the network and exchanges all rows that h e changed between the Publisher and Subscriber since the last time synchronization occurred.Merge replication is typically used in server-to-client environments.

NEW QUESTION: 3A user has launched two EBS backed EC2 instances in the US-East-1a region. The user wants to change the zone of one of the instances. How can the user change it?A. The zone can only be modified using the AWS CLB. Stop one of the instances and change the availability zoneC. Create an AMI of the running instance and launch the instance in a separate AZD. From the AWS EC2 console, select the Actions - > Change zones and specify new zone

Answer: CExplanation:With AWS EC2, when a user is launching an instance he can select the availability zone(AZ. at the time of launch. If the zone is not selected, AWS selects it on behalf of the user. Once the instance is launched, the user cannot change the zone of that instance unless he creates an AMI of that instance and launches a new instance from it.
