NEW QUESTION: 2 You are conducting interviews with the management team of a new potential customer; a multi-floor medical center located in a multi-tenant office building of a popular suburban business park. To begin, the management team expects to have approximately 100 simultaneous wireless users throughout the medical center using a variety of mission-critical applications, including high performance data for transferring large MRI scans to the handsets of medical personnel, VoWLAN handsets, Push-to-talk (PTT) voice badges, and Real-time Locationing Services (RTLS) mounted on infusion pumps and bio monitor carts. Over the upcoming months and years, many more users are expected to be added to the WLAN. Which of the following solutions would best solve the many requirements of this customer?
