NEW QUESTION: 1 Tommy is looking at a photo album with his dad. He looks at his dad and then points to a picture of his mom and says, "Mommy." This is an example of A. transitivity. B. matching to sample. C. a tact. D. receptive language. Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 2 You are the business analyst for your organization and you're using a plan-driven approach to business analysis processes. In this environment, what types of communications are most likely required to be used in regard to requirements? A. Face-to-face B. Formal C. Informal D. Ad hoc Answer: B Explanation: Explanation Plan driven approaches to business analysis practices most often use the formal type of communication. This means the communication of the actual requirements is in writing and often uses pre-defined forms requiring signatory approvals. All project documentation is normally archived as part of the project history. Answer C is incorrect. Face-to-face is an effective communication method, but for plan-driven approaches, formal communication is preferred in regard to requirements. Answer B is incorrect. Ad hoc describes the sudden, quick conversations. This is an informal approach to communication and isn't appropriate for a plan-driven business analysis approach. Answer A is incorrect. Informal isn't preferred in a plan-driven approach.
