NEW QUESTION: 3 MapReduce v2 (MRv2/YARN) splits which major functions of the JobTracker into separate daemons? Select two. A. Managing tasks B. Job coordination between the ResourceManager and NodeManager C. Launching tasks D. Managing file system metadata E. Job scheduling/monitoring F. Resource management G. Health states checks (heartbeats) H. MapReduce metric reporting Answer: B, F Explanation: The fundamental idea of MRv2 is to split up the two major functionalities of the JobTracker, resource management and job scheduling/monitoring, into separate daemons. The idea is to have a global ResourceManager (RM) and per-application ApplicationMaster (AM). An application is either a single job in the classical sense of Map-Reduce jobs or a DAG of jobs. Note: The central goal of YARN is to clearly separate two things that are unfortunately smushed together in current Hadoop, specifically in (mainly) JobTracker: / Monitoring the status of the cluster with respect to which nodes have which resources available. Under YARN, this will be global. / Managing the parallelization execution of any specific job. Under YARN, this will be done separately for each job. Reference: Apache Hadoop YARN - Concepts & Applications

NEW QUESTION: 4 During a security assessment, an administrator wishes to see which services are running on a remote server. Which of the following should the administrator use? A. Port scanner B. Process list C. Network sniffer D. Protocol analyzer Answer: A Explanation: Different services use different ports. When a service is enabled on a computer, a network port is opened for that service. For example, enabling the HTTP service on a web server will open port 80 on the server. By determining which ports are open on a remote server, we can determine which services are running on that server. A port scanner is a software application designed to probe a server or host for open ports. This is often used by administrators to verify security policies of their networks and by attackers to identify running services on a host with the view to compromise it. A port scan or portscan can be defined as a process that sends client requests to a range of server port addresses on a host, with the goal of finding an active port. While not a nefarious process in and of itself, it is one used by hackers to probe target machine services with the aim of exploiting a known vulnerability of that service. However the majority of uses of a port scan are not attacks and are simple probes to determine services available on a remote machine.
