NEW QUESTION: 1You are developing a Human Resources form with a single block to display employees. For each employee, you look up the department name to display in a non-base-table item. When you test the form, you discover that when you enter a new employee as the first employee in a new department that has not yet been created in the database, you get the following error when you try to navigate out of the Department_Id item: FRM-40735: WHEN-VALIDATE-ITEM trigger raised unhandled exception ORA-01403. The ORA-01403 exception is the NO_DATA_FOUND exception. When this message is received, you cannot navigate out of the Department_Id item. You add the following code to the When-Validate-Item trigger on the Department_Id item to display a meaningful message to the user: EXCEPTION WHEN NO_DATA_FOUND THEN MESSAGE('You must create the department before adding employees to it'); You run the form again to test it, and you enter a new employee and a department ID that does not exist in the database. When you click into the Employee_Name item, the appropriate message is displayed, but the cursor moves to Employee_Name. What must you change so that the user will not be able to navigate out of the Department_Id item when entering a department ID that is not in the database? A. Add the following line at the end of the exception handler: RAISE FORM_TRIGGER_FAILURE; B. You cannot stop navigation from occurring when displaying a custom message. You should delete the exception handler and allow Forms to display the default message. C. Add the following code at the end of the exception handler: IF DBMS_ERROR_CODE = 1403 THEN RAISE FORM_TRIGGER_FAILURE; END IF; D. If you write a handler for the exception, you will not be able to stop navigation from occurring. Instead, create a Key-Next-Item trigger on the Department_Id item with the following code: NEXT_ITEM; IF NOT FORM_SUCCESS THEN MESSAGE('You must create the department before adding employees to it'); END IF; E. If you write a handler for the exception, you will not be able to stop navigation from occurring, so you should put the following code in an On-Error trigger instead: IF ERROR_CODE = 40735 THEN MESSAGE('You must create the department before adding employees to it'); END IF; Answer: A
