NEW QUESTION: 2 Your network contains 200 Web servers that run Windows Server 2008. You need to plan the management of security settings for all servers on the network. The solution must meet the following requirements: - Minimize administrative effort. - Maintain identical security settings for all servers. - Enable compliance audits of servers added to the network. What should you do first? A. On one server, install and run the Microsoft Baseline Security Analyzer (MBSA). B. On each server, configure a local security audit policy. C. On one server, run the Security Configuration Wizard (SCW). D. On one server, install and run the Microsoft Security Assessment Tool (MSAT). Answer: C Explanation: SCW = guides you through the process of creating, editing, applying, or rolling back a security policy. MSAT = is designed for businesses to assess the risk level of their information systems. MBSA = scans for missing security updates and common security misconfigurations. It can be used in conjunction with Microsoft Update and Windows Server Update Services. The Security Configuration Wizard (SCW) guides you through the process of creating, editing, applying, or rolling back a security policy. A security policy that you create with SCW is an .xml file that, when applied, configures services, network security, specific registry values, and audit policy. SCW is a role-based tool: you can use it to create a policy that enables services, firewall rules, and settings that are required for a selected server to perform specific roles, such as a file server, a print server, or a domain controller. <http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/cc754997.aspx>

NEW QUESTION: 3 You are the CRM administrator of a new project to revitalize the lead Assignment manager rules to ensure the proper sales salesperson is getting assigned based on new geographies and current workloads. Select the three Fusion Assignment Manager components that should be part of your planning process to plan the configuration of Assignment Manager. A. Resources B. Dynamic Assignment C. Schedules D. Business Objects E. Attributes F. Assignment Criteria Answer: A, E, F Explanation: A: Leads can be automatically assigned through Assignment Manager by associating assignment criteria to assignment rules. An assignment rule can have one or more assignment criteria. For example, all leads lower than a certain deal size, and for a specific product are all assigned to a specific Partner resource. Another example of creating an assignment rule might be if you want all leads that are generated based on a specific campaign, such as a CEO round table discussion event, assigned to a specific salesperson. C, E: You can specify assignment rules and rule sets for assignment of resource candidate objects to the lead work object. Assignment Manager uses rules to evaluate and recommend candidate assignments for your specified lead work objects. Assignment rules are created using work objects, candidate objects, attributes, and conditions. You can use multiple types of assignment rules and rule sets for assignment of candidate objects, such as rank, qualification status, and resources, to the lead work object. For example, you can specify the assignment rule that assigns resources to sales leads by assigning individual sales resources that meet the rule criteria.
