NEW QUESTION: 1You need to create a bot to meet the following requirements:* The bot must support multiple bot channels including Direct Line.* Users must be able to sign in to the bot by using a Gmail user account and save activities and preferences.Which four actions should you perform in sequence? To answer, move the appropriate actions from the list of actions to the answer area and arrange them in the correct order.NOTE: More than one order of answer choices is correct. You will receive credit for any of the correct orders you select.Answer:
Explanation:ExplanationStep 1: From the Azure portal, configure an identity provider.The Azure Bot Service and the v4 SDK include new bot authentication capabilities, providing features to make it easier to develop a bot that authenticates users to various identity providers, such as Azure AD (Azure Active Directory), GitHub, Uber, and so on.Step 2: From the Azure portal, create an Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) B2C service.Azure Active Directory B2C provides business-to-customer identity as a service. Your customers use their preferred social, enterprise, or local account identities to get single sign-on access to your applications and APIs. Step 3: From the Azure portal, create a client applicationYou can enable communication between your bot and your own client application by using the Direct Line API. Step 4: From the bot code, add the connection settings and OAuthPrompt. Use an OAuth prompt to sign the user in and get a token. Azure AD B2C uses standards-based authentication protocols including OpenID Connect, OAuth 2.0, and SAML.
