NEW QUESTION: 1 Which statement about passive interface is true? A. The interface with the IS-IS passive interface configuration sends the IP address of that interface in the link-state protocol data units. B. The interface with the OSPF passive interface configuration appears as a not-stubby network. C. Passive interface can be configured on the interface for IS-IS. D. The interface with the EIGRP passive interface configuration ignores routes after the exchange of hello packets. Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2 A. Option A. B. Option C. C. Option B. D. Option D Answer: D Explanation: * Azure Table Storage can be useful for applications that must store large amounts of nonrelational data, and need additional structure for that data. Tables offer key-based access to unschematized data at a low cost for applications with simplified data-access patterns. While Azure Table Storage stores structured data without schemas, it does not provide any way to represent relationships between the data. * As a solution architect/developer, consider using Azure Table Storage when: / Your application stores and retrieves large data sets and does not have complex relationships that require server-side joins, secondary indexes, or complex server-side logic. / You need to achieve a high level of scaling without having to manually shard your dataset.
