NEW QUESTION: 2 Your company has a data center in Miami and a data center in Orlando. Each data center is configured as an Active Directory site. The network contains an Active Directory forest named fabrikam.com. The company plans to deploy an Exchange Server 2016 organization that will contain the servers configured as shown in the following table. The servers will be configured in a single database availability group (DAG). Datacenter Activation Coordination (DAC) mode will be enabled for the DAG. All inbound email from the Internet will be routed through EX5. You need to recommend a solution to ensure that users will continue to receive email messages if the Miami data center fails. Which two actions should you include in the recommendation? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.
A. Modify the weight of the mx.fabrikam.com mail exchanger (MX) record.
B. Configure a host (A) record named mx.fabrikam.com and point mx.fabrikam.com to the IP address of EX5. Configure a host (A) record named mx-backup.fabrikam.com and point mx-backup.fabrikam.com to the IP address of EX6.
C. Create one mail exchanger (MX) record that has a priority of 10 and configure the record to point to mx.fabrikam.com. Create a second MX record that has a priority of 100 and configure the record to point to mx-backup.fabrikam.com.
D. Create one mail exchanger (MX) record that has a priority of 10 and a second MX record that has a priority of 100. Configure both MX records to point to mx.fabrikam.com.
E. Configure a host (A) record named mx.fabrikam.com. Add the IP addresses of EX5 and EX6 to the record.
