Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 2 Users can authenticate to a company's web applications using their credentials from a popular social media site. Which of the following poses the greatest risk with this integration?
A. Data loss from the corporate servers can create legal liabilities with the social media site
B. Password breaches to the social media site affect the company application as well
C. Changes to passwords on the social media site can be delayed from replicating to the company
D. Malicious users can exploit local corporate credentials with their social media credentials
Answer: B
Explanation: Social networking and having you company's application authentication 'linked' to users' credential that they use on social media sites exposes your company's application exponentially more than is necessary. You should strive to practice risk avoidance.
