Option CAnswer: A*Explanation: ExplanationFile format versatility and Intelligent caching: Fast analytics on Hadoop have always come with one big catch:they require up-front conversion to a columnar format like ORCFile, Parquet or Avro, which is time-consuming, complex and limits your agility.With Interactive Query Dynamic Text Cache, which converts CSV or JSON data into optimized in-memory format on-the-fly, caching is dynamic, so the queries determine what data is cached. After text data is cached, analytics run just as fast as if you had converted it to specific file formats.References:
