NEW QUESTION: 4 Company XYZ provides cable television services to several regional areas. They are currently installing fiber-to-the-home in many areas with hopes of also providing telephone and Internet services. The telephone and Internet services portions of the company will each be separate subsidiaries of the parent company. The board of directors wishes to keep the subsidiaries separate from the parent company. However all three companies must share customer data for the purposes of accounting, billing, and customer authentication. The solution must use open standards, and be simple and seamless for customers, while only sharing minimal data between the companies. Which of the following solutions is BEST suited for this scenario?A. The companies should federate, with the parent becoming the IdP, and the subsidiaries becoming an SP.B. The companies should federate, with the parent becoming the ASP, and the subsidiaries becoming an IdP.C. The companies should federate, with the parent becoming the IdP, and the subsidiaries becoming an SSP.D. The companies should federate, with the parent becoming the SP, and the subsidiaries becoming an IdP.Answer: A*Explanation: The question states that "all three companies must share customer data for the purposes of accounting, billing, and customer authentication". The simplest solution is a federated solution. In a federated solution, you have a single authentication provider. In this question, the parent company should be the authentication provider. The authentication provider is known as the IdP (Identity Provider). The IdP is the partner in a federation that creates security tokens for users. The other two subsidiaries, the telephone and Internet services providers will be the SP (Service Provider). The SP is the partner in a federation that consumes security tokens for providing access to applications. Incorrect Answers: A: The parent company should be the IdP (Identity Provider), not the subsidiaries. B: SSP stands for Storage Service Providers. The subsidiaries should be SPs, not SSPs. D: ASP stands for Application Service Providers. The parent should be the IdP, not an ASP and the subsidiaries should be SPs, not the IdP. References: <http://www.empowerid.com/learningcenter/technologies/service-identity-providers>
