NEW QUESTION: 3 Which Orange book security rating introduces security labels?
A. B1
B. C2
C. B2
D. B3
Answer: A
Explanation: B1 is also called "Labeled Security" and each data object must have a classification label and each subject a clearance label. On each access attempt, the classification and clearance are checked to verify that the access is permissible. C2 is incorrect. C2 is also called "Controlled Access Protection" and only requires that subjects be individually identified and that security-related events are auditable. B2 is incorrect. B2 is also called "Structured Protection" and imposes additional controls on security policy and a more thorough review of system design and implementation. B3 is incorrect. B3 is also called "Security Domains" and imposes more granularity in each protection mechanism.
