NEW QUESTION: 1You are the project manager for a construction project. The project involves casting of a column in a very narrow space. Because of lack of space, casting it is highly dangerous. High technical skill will be required for casting that column. You decide to hire a local expert team for casting that column. Which of the following types of risk response are you following?A. Transference B. Mitigation C. Acceptance D. Avoidance*Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2Structured programming is BEST described as a technique that:A. provides knowledge of program functions to other programmers via peer reviews. B. controls the coding and testing of the high-level functions of the program in the development process. C. makes the readable coding reflect as closely as possible the dynamic execution of the program. D. reduces the maintenance time of programs by the use of small-scale program modules.*Answer: D
Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:A characteristic of structured programming is smaller, workable units. Structured programming has evolved because smaller, workable units are easier to maintain. Structured programming is a style of programming which restricts the kinds of control structures. This limitation is not crippling. Any program can be written with allowed control structures. Structured programming is sometimes referred to as go-to-less programming, since a go-to statement is not allowed. This is perhaps the most well known restriction of the style, since go-to statements were common at the time structured programming was becoming more popular. Statement labels also become unnecessary, except in languages where subroutines are identified by labels.

NEW QUESTION: 3What are the advantages of the iterative route step? There are 2 correct answers to this question. Response:A.
