NEW QUESTION: 1Your network contains an Active Directory forest.The forest contains two domains named contoso.com and woodgrovebank.com.You have a custom attribute named Attribute1 in Active Directory.Attribute1 is associated to User objects.You need to ensure that Attribute1 is replicated to the global catalog.What should you do?A. From the Active Directory Schema snap-in, modify the properties of the Attribute1 class schema attribute.B. From the Active Directory Schema snap-in, modify the properties of the User class schema object.C. In Active Directory Sites and Services, configure the NTDS Settings.D. In Active Directory Sites and Services, configure the universal group membership caching.Answer: AExplanation: <http://www.tech-faq.com/the-global-catalog-server.html>The Global Catalog ServerThe Global Catalog (GC) is an important component in Active Directory because it serves as the central information store of the Active Directory objects located in domains and forests. Because the GC maintains a list of the Active Directory objects in domains and forests without actually including all information on the objects and it is used when users search for Active Directory objects or for specific attributes of an object, the GC improves network performance and provides maximum accessibility to Active Directory objects...How to Include Additional Attributes in the GCThe number of attributes in the GC affects GC replication. The more attributes the GC servers have to replicate, the more network traffic GC replication creates. Default attributes are included in the GC when Active Directory is first deployed. The Active Directory Schema snap-in can be used to add any additional attribute to the GC. Because the snap-in is by default not included in the Administrative Tools Menu, users have to add it to the MMC before it can be used to customize the GC.To add the Active Directory Schema snap-in in the MMC:1.Click Start, Run, and enter cmd in the Run dialog box. Press Enter.2.Enter the following at the command prompt: regsvr32 schmmgmt.dll.3.Click OK to acknowledge that the dll was successfully registered.4.Click Start, Run, and enter mmc in the Run dialog box.5.When the MMC opens, select Add/Remove Snap-in from the File menu.6.In the Add/Remove Snap-in dialog box, click Add then add the Active Directory Schema snap-in from the Add Standalone Snap-in dialog box.7.Close all open dialog boxes.To include additional attributes in the GC: 1.Open the Active Directory Schema snap-in.2.In the console tree, expand the Attributes container, right-click an attribute, and click Properties from the shortcut menu.3.Additional attributes are added on the General tab.4.Ensure that the Replicate this attribute to the Global Catalog checkbox is enabled.5.Click OK.

NEW QUESTION: 2Your network contains an Active Directory forest named contoso.com. The forest contains a single domain.You have an Azure subscription named Sub1 that is associated to an Azure Active Directory (Azure AD)tenant named contoso.com.You plan to deploy Azure AD

Connect and to integrate Active Directory and the Azure AD tenant. You need to recommend an integration solution that meets the following requirements: Ensures that password policies and user logon restrictions apply to user accounts that are synced to the tenant. Minimizes the number of servers required for the solution. Which authentication method should you include in the recommendation? A. federated identity with Active Directory Federation Services (AD FS) B. password hash synchronization with seamless single sign-on (SSO) C. pass-through authentication with seamless single sign-on (SSO) Answer: B Explanation:

Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Password hash synchronization requires the least effort regarding deployment, maintenance, and infrastructure. This level of effort typically applies to organizations that only need their users to sign in to Office 365, SaaS apps, and other Azure AD-based resources. When turned on, password hash synchronization is part of the Azure AD Connect sync process and runs every two minutes. Incorrect Answers: A: A federated authentication system relies on an external trusted system to authenticate users. Some companies want to reuse their existing federated system investment with their Azure AD hybrid identity solution. The maintenance and management of the federated system falls outside the control of Azure AD. It's up to the organization by using the federated system to make sure it's deployed securely and can handle the authentication load. C: For pass-through authentication, you need one or more (we recommend three) lightweight agents installed on existing servers. These agents must have access to your on-premises Active Directory Domain Services, including your on-premises AD domain controllers. They need outbound access to the Internet and access to your domain controllers. For this reason, it's not supported to deploy the agents in a perimeter network. Pass-through Authentication requires unconstrained network access to domain controllers. All network traffic is encrypted and limited to authentication requests.
