NEW QUESTION: 4 Refer to the exhibit. Which statement about the output of the show flow-sampler command is true? A. The sampler matched 10 packets, one packet every 100 seconds. B. The sampler matched 10 packets, each packet randomly chosen from every group of 100 packets. C. The sampler matched 10 packets, one packet every 100 packets. D. The sampler matched 10 packets, each one randomly chosen from every 100-second interval. Answer: B Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: The sampling mode determines the algorithm that selects a subset of traffic for NetFlow processing. In the random sampling mode that Random Sampled NetFlow uses, incoming packets are randomly selected so that one out of each n sequential packets is selected on average for NetFlow processing. For example, if you set the sampling rate to 1 out of 100 packets, then NetFlow might sample the 5th, 120th, 199th, 302nd, and so on packets. This sample configuration provides NetFlow data on 1 percent of total traffic. The n value is a parameter from 1 to 65535 packets that you can configure. Table 2 show flow-sampler Field Descriptions Field Description Sampler Name of the flow sampler id Unique ID of the flow sampler packets matched Number of packets matched for the flow sampler mode Flow sampling mode sampling interval is Flow sampling interval (in packets)
