NEW QUESTION: 2Which action is the vSmart controller responsible for in an SD-WAN deployment?
A. distribute security information for tunnel establishment between vEdge routers
B. gather telemetry data from vEdge routers
C. onboard vEdge nodes into the SD-WAN fabric
D. manage, maintain, and gather configuration and status for nodes within the SD-WAN fabric
Answer: A
Explanation:
+ Orchestration plane (vBond) assists in securely onboarding the SD-WAN WAN Edge routers into the SD-WAN overlay (-> Therefore answer "onboard vEdge nodes into the SD-WAN fabric" mentioned about vBond). The vBond controller, or orchestrator, authenticates and authorizes the SD-WAN components onto the network. The vBond orchestrator takes an added responsibility to distribute the list of vSmart and vManage controller information to the WAN Edge routers. vBond is the only device in SD-WAN that requires a public IP address as it is the first point of contact and authentication for all SD-WAN components to join the SD-WAN fabric. All other components need to know the vBond IP or DNS information.
+ Management plane (vManage) is responsible for central configuration and monitoring. The vManage controller is the centralized network management system that provides a single pane of glass GUI interface to easily deploy, configure, monitor and troubleshoot all Cisco SD-WAN components in the network. (-> Answer "manage, maintain, and gather configuration and status for nodes within the SD-WAN fabric" and answer "gather telemetry data from vEdge routers" are about vManage)
+ Control plane (vSmart) builds and maintains the network topology and make decisions on the traffic flows. The vSmart controller disseminates control plane information between WAN Edge devices, implements control plane policies and distributes data plane policies to network devices for enforcement (-> Answer "distribute security information for tunnel establishment between vEdge routers" is about vSmart)

The application must read the transaction logs of all the changes that occur to the blobs and the blob metadata in the storage account for auditing purposes. The changes must be in the order in which they occurred, include only create, update, delete, and copy operations and be retained for compliance reasons. You need to process the transaction logs asynchronously. What should you do? A. Use the Azure Monitor HTTP Data Collector API and scan the request body for successful blob events. B. Process all Azure Blob storage events by using Azure Event Grid with a subscriber Azure Function app. C. Process all Azure Storage Analytics logs for successful blob events. D. Enable the change feed on the storage account and process all changes for available events. Answer: D Explanation: Change feed support in Azure Blob Storage The purpose of the change feed is to provide transaction logs of all the changes that occur to the blobs and the blob metadata in your storage account. The change feed provides ordered, guaranteed, durable, immutable, read-only log of these changes. Client applications can read these logs at any time, either in streaming or in batch mode. The change feed enables you to build efficient and scalable solutions that process change events that occur in your Blob Storage account at a low cost. Reference:
