NEW QUESTION: 1While testing an SAP Fiori app you discover that a button on the page delivers no response. Which of the following agile pyramid options do you use?A. SinonB. OPA C. QUnitD. Mock serverAnswer: B

NEW QUESTION: 2What are two benefits of using a single OSPF area network design? (Choose two.)A. It removes the need for virtual links.B. It reduces the number of required OSPF neighbor adjacencies.C. It reduces the types of LSAs that are generated.D. It increases LSA response times.E. It is less CPU intensive for routers in the single area.Answer: A,C*Explanation: Explanation/Reference:Explanation:OSPF uses a LSDB (link state database) and fills this with LSAs (link state advertisement).The link types are as follows:LSA Type 1: Router LSALS A Type 2: Network LSALS A Type 3: Summary LSALS A Type 4: Summary ASBR LSALS A Type 5: Autonomous system external LSALS A Type 6: Multicast OSPF LSALS A Type 7: Not-so-stubby area LSALS A Type 8: External attribute LSA for BGPIf all routers are in the same area, then many of these LSA types (Summary ASBR LSA, external LSA, etc) will not be used and will not be generated by any router.All areas in an Open Shortest Path First (OSPF) autonomous system must be physically connected to the backbone area (Area 0). In some cases, where this is not possible, you can use a virtual link to connect to the backbone through a non-backbone area. You can also use virtual links to connect two parts of a partitioned backbone through a non-backbone area. The area through which you configure the virtual link, known as a transit area, must have full routing information. The transit area cannot be a stub area. Virtual links are not ideal and should really only be used for temporary network solutions or migrations. However, if all locations are in a single OSPF area this is not needed.

NEW QUESTION: 3 You have just completed an OSPF implementation. While executing your verification plan, you determine that R1 is not able to establish full OSPF adjacency with R2. The show ip ospf neighbor command output on R1 shows that R2 is stuck in the INIT state. What could be the cause of this problem?
A. Corrupted LSAs exchanges between the R1 and R2.
B. The R2 router has not received the OSPF hello packets from the R1 router.
C. Mismatched OSPF hello interval configuration between the R1 and R2.
D. DR and BDR election errors between R1 and R2.
E. Mismatched interface maximum transmission unit (MTU) configuration between the R1 and R2.
Answer: B
Explanation: Explanation When a router receives an OSPF Hello from a neighbor, it sends the Hello packet by including that neighbor's router ID in the Hello packet. If the neighbor does not receive this packet (means that it doesn't see itself in this packet), it will be stuck in INIT state. INIT state can be understood as a one-way Hello. An example of a router stuck in INIT state is shown below:
