NEW QUESTION: 3HOTSPOTYou develop a webpage. You create the following HTML markup: <!DOCTYPE html><html><head><style></style></head><body>The layout of the webpage must contain three rows. The first row spans the entire width of the page and is labeled #Top. The second row contains three columns. The first column is labeled #Left; the second column is labeled #Main; and the right column is labeled #Right. The #Left and #Right columns are a fixed width. The #Main column occupies the remaining available space. The third and final row spans the entire width of the page and is labeled #Bottom.The layout of the webpage must resemble the following image:You need to create the CSS styles to implement the layout.How should you complete the relevant styles? (To answer, select the appropriate option from each drop-down list in the answer area.)Answer: Explanation:* -ms-flexboxTo enable flexbox layout, you must first create a flexbox container. Do this by setting the display property of an element to either "-ms-flexbox" (for a block-level flexbox container) or "-ms-inline-flexbox" (for an inline flexbox container).* -ms-flex-direction: row;When creating a flexbox container, you can also set its orientation-that is, specify whether its children are displayed from right-to-left, left-to-right, top-to-bottom, or bottom-to-top.* -ms-flexSpecifies whether the width or height of a child element is flexible based on the space available in the object. This value also indicates the proportion of space available that is allocated to the child element. Reference: Flexible box ("Flexbox") layout in Internet Explorer 10
