NEW QUESTION: 1An architect is helping an organization with the Logical Design of an NSX-T Data Center solution. This information was gathered during the Assessment Phase: There is a performance based SLA for East - West traffic. The business critical applications require prioritization of their traffic. One of the services is a file share and has a high demand for bandwidth. Which selection should the architect include in their design? (Choose the best answer.) A. Include a segment QoS profile and review the impact of utilizing this feature. B. Review average North/South traffic from the core switches and firewall. C. Meet with the organization's application team to get additional information. D. Monitor East-West traffic throughout normal business cycles. Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2You are caring for a patient with suspected cystic fibrosis. A sweat test has been performed on the child. Which of the following test results would be considered a positive result? A. Chloride of 20 mEq/L B. Chloride of 40 mEq/L C. Chloride of 30 mEq/L D. Chloride of 70 mEq/L Answer: D Explanation: A chloride of 70 mEq/L would indicate a positive sweat test. In a sweat test, sweating is stimulated on the forearm with pilocarpine, and the amounts of sodium and chloride are measured. At least 50 mg of sweat is required to get an accurate test. A chloride level of 60 mEq/L or greater is considered a positive test.

NEW QUESTION: 3Which choice below is NOT a concern of policy development at the high level? A. Defining roles in the organization B. Identifying the key business resources C. Identifying the type of firewalls to be used for perimeter security D. Determining the capability and functionality of each role Answer: C Explanation: The other options are elements of policy development at the highest level. Key business resources would have been identified during the risk assessment process. The various roles are then defined to determine the various levels of access to those resources. Answer "Determining the capability and functionality of each role" is the final step in the policy creation process and combines steps a and "Defining roles in the organization". It determines which group gets access to each resource and what access privileges its members are assigned. Access to resources should be based on roles, not on individual identity.
