NEW QUESTION: 1RAID levels 3 and 5 run:A. at the same speed on software and hardware.B. faster on software.C. slower on hardware.D. faster on hardware.Answer: DExplanation:
Explanation/Reference:Explanation:RAID can be implemented in either hardware or software. Each type has its own issues and benefits. A hardware RAID implementation is usually platform-independent. It runs below the operating system (OS) of the server and usually does not care if the OS is Novell, NT, or Unix. The hardware implementation uses its own Central Processing Unit (CPU) for calculations on an intelligent controller card. There can be more than one of these cards installed to provide hardware redundancy in the server. RAID levels 3 and 5 run faster on hardware. A software implementation of RAID means it runs as part of the operating system on the file server.Incorrect Answers:B: RAID levels 3 and 5 run faster, not slower on hardware.C: RAID levels 3 and 5 run faster on hardware, not software.D: RAID levels 3 and 5 run faster hardware than they do on software.References:Krutz, Ronald L. and Russell Dean Vines, The CISSP Prep Guide: Mastering the CISSP and ISSEP Exams, 2nd Edition, Wiley Publishing, Indianapolis, 2004, p. 145
