Answer: A,B,D

NEW QUESTION: 2Which set of circumstances is most likely to result in a narrow confidence interval?A. small n and a degree of confidence of .95.B. large n and a degree of confidence of .95.C. large n and a degree of confidence of .99.Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3Which two are required to collect the necessary information to perform a Simplified Disaster Recovery job? (Select two.)A. the data driveB. the system registryC. the system driveD. the disk signatureE. the system state of the protected systemAnswer: C,E

NEW QUESTION: 4After performing maintenance on an Oracle Linux compute instance the system is returned to a running state You attempt to connect using SSH but are unable to do so. You decide to create an instance console connection to troubleshoot the issue.Which three tasks would enable you to connect to the console connection and begin troubleshooting?A. Reboot the compute instance using the Oracle Cloud Infrastructure (OCI) Management Console B. edit the Linux boot menu to enable access to console.C. Stop the compute Instance using the Oracle cloud Infrastructure (OCI) Command Line interface (CLI).D. Upload an API signing key for console connection authentication.E. Use SSH to connect to the public: IP address of the compute Instance and provide the console connection OCID as the username.F. Use SSH to connect to the service endpoint of the console connection serviceAnswer: A,B,F*Explanation: The Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Compute service provides console connections that enable you to remotely troubleshoot malfunctioning instances, such as:An imported or customized image that does not complete a successful boot.A previously working instance that stops responding. the steps to connect to console and troubleshoot the OS Issue1- Before you can connect to the serial console you need to create the instance console connection.Open the navigation menu. Under Core Infrastructure, go to Compute and click Instances.Click the instance that you're interested in.Under Resources, click Console Connections.Click Create Console Connection. Upload the public key (.pub) portion for the SSH key. You can browse to a public key file on your computer or paste your public key into the text box. Click Create Console Connection. When the console connection has been created and is available, the status changes to ACTIVE.

2- Connecting to the Serial Console you can connect to the serial console by using a Secure Shell (SSH) connection to the service endpoint of the console connection service. Open the navigation menu. Under Core Infrastructure, go to Compute and click Instances. Click the instance that you're interested in. Under Resources, click Console Connections. Click the Actions icon (three dots), and then click Copy Serial Console Connection for Linux/Mac. Paste the connection string copied from the previous step to a terminal window on a Mac OS X or Linux system, and then press Enter to connect to the console. If you are not using the default SSH key or ssh-agent, you can modify the serial console connection string to include the identity file flag, `-i`, to specify the SSH key to use. You must specify this for both the SSH connection and the SSH ProxyCommand, as shown in the following line: `ssh -i /<path>/<ssh_key> -o ProxyCommand='ssh -i /<path>/<ssh_key> -W %h:%p -p 443...` Press Enter again to activate the console.

3- Troubleshooting Instances from Instance Console Connections To boot into maintenance mode Reboot the instance from the Console. When the reboot process starts, switch back to the terminal window, and you see Console messages start to appear in the window. As soon as you see the GRUB boot menu appear, use the up/down arrow key to stop the automatic boot process, enabling you to use the boot menu. In the boot menu, highlight the top item in the menu, and type `e` to edit the boot entry. In edit mode, use the down arrow key to scroll down through the entries until you reach the line that starts with either `linuxefi` for instances running Oracle Autonomous Linux 7.x or Oracle Linux 7.x, or `kernel` for instances running Oracle Linux 6.x. At the end of that line, add the following: `init=/bin/bash` Reboot the instance from the terminal window by entering the keyboard shortcut `CTRL+X`.
