NEW QUESTION: 3 Which two statements are true regarding hot patching? (Choose two.) A. It can detect conflicts between two online patches. B. It works only in a single database instance environment. C. It requires relinking of the Oracle binary. D. It does not require database instance shutdown. E. It is available for installing all patches on all platforms. Answer: A,D Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Online Patching Regular patches typically contain .o (object) files and/or .a (archive) libraries, and therefore require a relink of the RDBMS binary. Online patches, however, contain .so files, which are dynamic/shared libraries, and do not require a relink of the RDBMS binary. Consequently, since a relink is not needed, you can apply or roll back online patches while the RDBMS instance is running. This simplifies administration, because no downtime is needed, and also results in a much quicker turnaround time for installing or de-installing Online Patches. A regular RDBMS patch can require many minutes to install, since it requires instance shutdown, a relink, and instance startup. On the other hand, you can install an online patch in just a few seconds. Online patches are only applicable for Oracle RDBMS and not any other products. Online patches are currently supported on the following Windows and UNIX platforms for version 11.2.0.1.0 and later: Linux x86 Linux x86_64 HP-UX Itanium Solaris SPARC 64-bit Solaris AMD 64-bit AIX (AIX 6.1 and later)

About Patch Conflicts: All patches may not be compatible with one another. For example, if you apply a patch, all the bugs the patch fixes could reappear after you apply another patch. This is called a conflict situation. OPatch detects such situations and raises an error when it detects a conflict.

NEW QUESTION: 4 (1) On my nineteenth birthday, I began my trip to Mali, West Africa. (2) Some 24 hours later I arrived in Bamako, the capital of Mali. (3) The sun had set and the night was starless. (4) One of the officials from the literacy program I was working was there to meet me. (5) After the melee in the baggage claim, we proceeded to his car. (6) Actually, it was a truck. (7) I was soon to learn that most people in Mali that had automobiles actually had trucks or SUVs. (8) Apparently, there not just a convenience but a necessity when you live on the edge of the Sahara. (9) I threw my bags into the bed of the truck, and hopped in to the back of the cab. (10) Riding to my welcome dinner, I stared out the windows of the truck and took in the city. (11) It was truly a foreign land to me, and I knew that I was an alien there. (12) "What am I doing here?" I thought. (13) It is hard to believe but seven months later I returned to the same airport along the same road that I had traveled on that first night in Bamako, and my perspective on the things that I saw had completely changed. (14) The landscape that had once seemed so desolate and lifeless now was the homeland of people that I had come to love. (15) When I looked back at the capital, Bamako, fast receding on the horizon, I did not see a city foreboding and wild in its foreignness. (16) I saw the city which held so many dear friends. (17) I saw tea drinking sessions going late into the night. (18) I saw the hospitality and open-heartedness of the people of Mali. (19) The second time, everything looked completely different, and I knew that it was I who had changed and not it.

Which of the following must be done to sentence 8 (reproduced below) to make it conform to the rules of written English? Apparently, there not just a convenience but a necessity when you live on the edge of the Sahara. A. Add "Desert" after "Sahara" B. Eliminate the comma after "Apparently" C. Change "there" to "they are" D. Add commas after "convenience" and "necessity" E. Change "you live" to "one lives"

Answer: C

Explanation/Reference: While it would be possible to add a comma after convenience, it doesn't make much sense to add one after necessity. Changing you live to one lives is possible, but not required. So is adding Desert. The comma after apparently isn't strictly required, but it is desirable. The only absolutely necessary change is to replace "there" with "they are" (choice B). "There are" might have been more difficult to rule against (though still incorrect), but the sentence doesn't even say there are; it just says there.
