NEW QUESTION: 1 Three switches are connected to one another via trunk ports. Assuming the default switch configuration, which switch is elected as the root bridge for the spanning-tree instance of VLAN1? A. the switch with the lowest MAC address B. the switch with the highest MAC address C. the switch with the highest IP address D. the switch with the lowest IP address
Answer: A
Explanation: Each switch in your network will have a Bridge ID Priority value, more commonly referred to as a BID. This BID is a combination of a default priority value and the switch's MAC address, with the priority value listed first. The lowest BID will win the election process. For example, if a Cisco switch has the default priority value of 32,768 and a MAC address of 11-22-33-44-55-66, the BID would be 32768:11-22-33-44-55-66. Therefore, if the switch priority is left at the default, the MAC address is the deciding factor in the root bridge election.

NEW QUESTION: 2 A customer has multiple partitions running their applications. Each partition has heavy memory requirements at different times of the day due to differences in the time zones of the users. Which memory technique can be best utilized in order to dynamically share memory among the LPARs? A. Virtual Memory Pool B. Active Memory Sharing C. Virtual Memory Boost D. Active Memory Expansion
Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3 What are the only two types of SCSI controllers? (Select two) A. LSI Logic B. Buslogic C. LSS Logic D. Busram
Answer: A, B
Explanation: In an ESX Server environment, each virtual machine includes from one to four virtual SCSI HBAs (host bus adapters). These virtual adapters may appear as either Buslogic or LSI Logic SCSI controllers. They are the only types of SCSI controllers that are accessible by a virtual machine. page 20 SAN Configuration Guide
