NEW QUESTION: 1 A Business Rule is launched from a data form. What will Planning utilize to provide a valid list of members for a run-time prompt?
A. Business Rules Basic User Role
B. Members defined on the data form
C. Planning Metadata security
D. Essbase security filters
E. Business Rules security access privileges
Answer: B
Explanation: When launched, a business rule can prompt you to enter variable information, called a runtime prompt. The business rule designer sets up runtime prompts. If a business rule has a runtime prompt and Use Members on Forms is selected, the default member on the runtime prompt window matches the current member in the page or POV axes of the open data form.
