NEW QUESTION: 1What is the purpose of defining the requirements for a Service Management System?A. To realize a Management System framework for IT Service ManagementB. To provide policies and a framework to enable effective management and implementation of all servicesC. To safeguard the implementation and delivery of Service ManagementD. To ensure that new services are deliverable and manageable against the customer requirementsAnswer: B

NEW QUESTION: 2Which of the following strategies most likely could improve the response rate of the confirmation of accounts receivable?A. Requesting customers to respond to the confirmation requests directly to the auditor by fax or e-mail.B. Including a list of items or invoices that constitute the account balance.C. Restricting the selection of accounts to be confirmed to those customers with relatively large balances.D. Notifying the recipients that second requests will be mailed if they fail to respond in a timely manner.Answer: B*Explanation: Explanation/Reference:Explanation:Choice "A" is correct. Some accounting systems facilitate the confirmation of single transactions rather than entire balances. In such cases, inclusion of statements of account showing details of the balances being confirmed makes it easier for the customers to confirm the balances, and therefore may improve the overall response rate.Choice "B" is incorrect. Restricting the selection of accounts to be confirmed to those customers with large balances would not necessarily improve the response rate, as there is no particular relationship between balance size and the likelihood of response.Choice "C" is incorrect. Requesting customers to respond to the confirmation requests electronically would not necessarily improve the response rate. It also might not be appropriate to request responses in electronic form, since the auditor will still request that the original be mailed back.Choice "D" is incorrect. Notifying the recipients that second requests will be mailed would not necessarily improve the response rate, since the consequence of not responding (receiving a second request) is relatively minor.

NEW QUESTION: 3 You are updating a system of record using a SOAP connector. If the system of record is unavailable, you want to retry after an hour. If it is still unavailable after an hour, a notification should be sent to a system administrator. How do you implement this requirement?

A. Implement the logic in the connector's error handler flow. B. Customize the standard `pxErrorHandlingTemplate` data transform. C. Implement the logic in the data page's response data transform. D. Use a transition condition in the activity step invoking the connector.

Answer: B
