NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following is the preferred method of return calculation in the investment management industry? A. None of these answers is correct. B. Time-weighted rate of return C. Internal rate of return D. Asset-weighted rate of return E. Dollar-weighted rate of return

Answer: B Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: The time-weighted rate of return is the preferred method of return calculation in the investment management industry, and this is precisely because the time-weighted rate of return is not sensitive to significant portfolio additions or withdrawals, unlike the dollar weighted rate of return. Remember that the dollar-weighted rate of return is another name for the Internal Rate of Return. Knowing this fact allows you to narrow the answer down to three possible choices. The asset-weighted rate of return is by definition sensitive to additions and withdrawals of portfolio assets.
