NEW QUESTION: 2 You are designing a distributed application. The application must store secure information that is specific to an individual user. The data must be automatically purged when the user logs off. You need to save transient information in a secure data store. Which data store should you use?A. Database storageB. Application stateC. Profile propertiesD. Session stateAnswer: D
Explanation: Explanation ASP.NET session state enables you to store and retrieve values for a user as the user navigates ASP.NET pages in a Web application. HTTP is a stateless protocol. This means that a Web server treats each HTTP request for a page as an independent request. The server retains no knowledge of variable values that were used during previous requests. ASP.NET session state identifies requests from the same browser during a limited time window as a session, and provides a way to persist variable values for the duration of that session. operatingsystem resource limits (for example, the number of open files)* The Data Recovery Advisor automatically diagnoses corruption or loss of persistent data on disk, determines the appropriate repair options, and executes repairs at the user's request. This reduces the complexity of recovery process, thereby reducing the Mean Time To Recover (MTTR).
