T has never had any previous involvement with K plc but is well known to K's Chief Executive P because T is the Managing Director of K plc's largest supplier. K has recently expanded into Asia. Doubts about the wisdom of the move have been expressed in the financial press with some journalists commenting that it has exposed K plc to higher degrees of risk than previously. The move had been approved by the Risk Committee which consists of four Non-Executive Directors (NEDs) all of whom have significant experience in business. K plc does not have a Nominations Committee. Nominations to the Board are usually proposed by P and generally agreed by the other directors. In relation to the above scenario which of the following comments is valid? A. K plc is in line with best practice as it only has NEDs on its Risk Committee. B. The absence of a Nominations Committee exposes K plc to the risk that the Chief Executive may have unfettered power. C. There is no possible conflict of interest in relation to T's position as a NED and as Managing Director of a supplier company since, in both roles, he would clearly want K plc to prosper. D. The Risk Committee should have rejected the proposal to enter the Asian market merely because it exposed K to greater risk than the other markets in which it operates. Answer: B
