NEW QUESTION: 1Which AP to Wireless LAN Controller discovery process requires a previous association of the AP with a Cisco WLC?A. DHCP Option 43B. DHCP Option 6C. over-the-air provisioningD. AP primingE. defining a master controllerAnswer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2Which of the following is NOT true concerning Application Control?A. It limits end users use of applications in such a way that only particular screens are visible.B. It is non-transparent to the endpoint applications so changes are needed to the applications and databases involvedC. Only specific records can be requested through the application controls D. Particular usage of the application can be recorded for audit purposesAnswer: B
Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:Application control limits what users can see or do within the application. For example, if a user does not have the necessary access privilege to perform some functions, the functions can be hidden from the screen or the screen itself can be hidden so the user cannot select it within the application. In a similar way, only the records a user has access to can be displayed.Application control is transparent to the user; the user does not know that a particular screen, function or data records have been hidden.Application control can be implemented to record the activities a user performs within the application for auditing purposes.Incorrect Answers:A: It is true that application control limits end users use of applications in such a way that only particular screens are visible.B: It is true that only specific records can be requested through the application controls.C: It is true that particular usage of the application can be recorded for audit purposes by Application Control.References:Harris, Shon, All In One CISSP Exam Guide, 6th Edition, McGraw-Hill, New York, 2013, pp. 1084-1085
